● Field Trips

Field trips help deepen a student's interest in a topic by creating a more hands-on, relevant learning experience. They also benefit teachers by giving them opportunities to generate greater attentiveness to a subject we schedule many field trips in an academic year: they have proven to be a great asset in the learning process.

● Circle Time

Circle time is a social activity that encourages informal yet meaningful discussions in class, allowing students to exchange thoughts and learn from one another. The circle formation in which they sit ensures that each student can see all the other members of their class.
